Other Classroom Policies and Expectations

Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty: There is much scholarship on many of the texts that we will be reading in this course. Please do not make the mistake of passing off any of that scholarship as your own. In academic writing, plagiarism is not just appropriating the words of someone else and passing them off as your own, but it's also taking someone else's ideas without giving them credit. While seeking out online resources can be beneficial in helping to clarify moments in the plot of a text, for example, it becomes a problem when it disallows you the opportunity to grapple with the text and discover your own interpretations and meanings. In doing so, you are really doing yourself, your classmates, and the literary text itself a huge disservice. We will sometimes conduct research in order to gain context (biographical, historical, cultural, etc.). When referencing information you learned through research, make sure to cite that information according to MLA guidelines.

San Juan College expects all students to adhere to the Academic Honesty Rules as posted on the college website: <http://www.sanjuacollege.edu/AcademicHonesty>. Plagiarism of all or a portion of any assignment will be strictly penalized, ranging from earning a zero on the assignment, to failing the class, or even suspension or expulsion from the College.

College Expectations: Please be advised that all students, including dual credit students and early college high school students, are subject to the same policies and standards regarding submission of late work, participation, conduct, and academic honesty as outlined in this syllabus. By enrolling in this SJC course, students understand that complex subject matter may be covered and that course content may be intellectually and emotionally challenging.

In complying with FERPA, I cannot and will not discuss any matters regarding any student's performance or standing in this class with friends, parents or family members. A FERPA waiver entitles your parents/guardians access to your grade records, which they can access through Canvas with your help. All students are encouraged to contact me whenever they have questions or concerns about this class. Students should practice self-advocacy as part of the college experience. It is an important step to becoming an independent and responsible person. It also helps strengthen the student/instructor relationship and the classroom community. As a result of the concerns for student autonomy and to avoid potential liability, I will not conference with parents or guardians regarding this class. I am, however, always happy to meet with students.

Additional course policies will be provided by your individual instructor.

Grading

Individual instructors will determine the grading scale for the course. The following grading scale is typically used, but may vary depending on the class:

100-90 A

89-80 B

79-70 C

69-60 D

59-0 F

The specific assignments and the portion of your grade that those assignments are worth will vary across sections. Your instructor will provide you with the grading schema that is specific to the section in which you are enrolled.

For the most part, your instructor will keep grades posted on Canvas so you can easily keep track of your progress in the course. If at any time you have questions about your grade or are concerned about the quality of your work, please contact your instructor.

Course Time Commitment

Every student works at a different pace, and some readings and assignments in this class will require more time and effort than others. However, you should keep in mind that the standard time commitment for a regular semester (16 week) 3-credit course is 6-9 hours per week for a face-to-face class and 9-12 hours per week for an online class. If you're enrolled in an 8-week course, you can expect to spend twice the amount of time each week on this course that you'd typically spend if it was a 16-week course.

Canvas Participation and Expectations

Canvas participation and expectations will vary across sections. Your instructor will provide you with the Canvas participation requirements that are specific to the section in which you are enrolled.

Participation and Attendance Policy

Specific participation and attendance policies vary across sections. Your instructor will provide you with the participation and attendance policies that are specific to the section in which you are enrolled.

Instructor Response Times & Regular Interaction Expectations

Sometimes problems arise that could affect your performance in this class. Your instructor is your best resource to advise you in these situations. Please contact him/her promptly if you have a question or if you're in need of assistance. At the beginning of the course, your instructor will provide you with information about how best to contact them. Most commonly, instructors will ask that you email them, send them a Canvas message, or call them over the phone. Instructors will make every effort to respond to your messages in a timely manner.

Healthy and Safe Practices for Being on Campus

We want a healthy and safe campus for students, faculty, staff, and guests.

Contagious diseases and your responsibility:

If you have COVID-19 symptoms, fever, flu or even the common cold, you should stay home. Do not come to campus if you are feeling sick. Contact your instructor about missing class (and review your instructor's policies on missed or late work). Being sick does not necessarily excuse you from completing your work on time.

Safety on campus and your responsibility:

If you are on campus and experience or witness an emergency, call 9-1-1 first and then the Department of Public Safety at 505-566-3333 (or just 3333 if calling from a campus phone).

When you are on campus, be aware of your surroundings. If you need an escort to your vehicle, call 505-566-4444 (DPS non-emergency line) or 505-215-3091 (officer on duty line).

The College will send information for campus emergencies through SJC AlertAware, email and the webpage. Stay informed and stay safe.

Inclement Weather Information

Students will receive notification of class delays and cancellations due to inclement weather via the SJC AlertAware and SJC student email. Face-to-face classes will not meet in person; however, students are advised to check with instructors about alternative meeting options, as some may choose to meet via zoom. Hybrid classes will meet as scheduled via zoom. For questions regarding your class delay or cancelation, please contact your instructor.

Online Course Fee

Online Courses - San Juan College requires all online courses to include some form of assessment to demonstrate the mastery of course objectives. This could include exams, capstone projects, e-portfolios, presentations, final papers or other appropriate assessments. The use of a proctoring platform, plagiarism detection software or other method to ensure that assessments are completed by the enrolled student is required.

A course fee of $5.00 is assessed for all online courses at San Juan College to cover the cost of the above services. Students who are required to take a proctored exam and choose to use a physical testing center outside the SJC Testing Center or SJC Disability Services will be responsible for the cost of using that center.
